Each year, celebrated designers transform a luxury Manhattan residence into the Kips Bay Decorator Show House (<http://www.kipsbaydecoratorshowhouse.org/>), an elaborate exhibition of fine furnishings, art, and technology. This year's iteration, open May 1-31, is no different. Designers went all out: Juan Montoya Design (<articles/6806-juan-montoya/>) evokes the cosmos via abstract silhouettes of the moon in both carpeting and wall covering, while Barbara Ostrom Associates (<http://www.barbaraostrom.com/>) transports guests to an avid art collector's library, crowned by a ceiling inspired by Frank Stella (<http://www.theartstory.org/artist-stella-frank.htm>) paintings. This year's pièce de résistance, however, is the grand staircase, Sasha Bikoff (<https://sashabikoff.com/>)'s technicolor ode to past, present, and future. Memphis Milano designers Ettore Sottsass (<https://www.artsy.net/article/artsy-editorial-design-icon-ettore-sottsass>) and Alessandro Mendini (https://www.alessi.com/us_en/designers/from-l-to-o/alessandro-mendini.html) influenced Bikoff, who included colorful pieces by Chris Schanck (articles/13705-remembering-ettore-sottsass-on-his-centennial/) and Misha Kahn (<http://www.mishakahn.com/>). It's a feast for the eyes—and Instagram.
